

{ Laura Naiser }

A S A SURVIVOR of childhood sexual abuse, Laura spent many years trying to “hide her crazy” until she emerged from the debilitating darkness of depression and shame into the light of God’s grace and truth in her mid-twenties. After sauntering into her first Bible study with a chip on her shoulder the size of Mount Rushmore and a skepticism exceeded only by her cynicism, she became captivated by God’s Word and it completely changed her life. She has spent the years since passionately walking with Christ through this adventure of life.

Laura has led Bible studies for over 18 years and loves to help people grow in their understanding of Scripture. In her former role as the Director of Discipling Ministries for a 4,500 member church, she emphasized a practical LAURA NAISER combines a genuine love and compassion for people with an incredible knowledge of scripture. When Laura speaks at your event, she will help you,

- Say goodbye to an off-the-rack faith and hello to a custom-made walk with God.
- Stand steady on a firm foundation even when the rug is ripped out from under you.
- Diminish the chaos of an over-scheduled life and gain more peace and balance.
- Resist perfectionism and people-pleasing by finding a better source of approval.
- Find freedom from old hurts and strained relationships by equipping you to forgive and move forward with more peace, wisdom, and authenticity.

She enjoys sharing the journey with those who have been walking with the Lord for many years, but she is equally comfortable walking alongside those who are unsure, struggling, and questioning. Laura’s authentic style invites participants to closely examine the contents of their spiritual basket and compare it to fresh insights from God’s Word. She leads her audience on a journey that is challenging, exciting, and personal.

and personal approach to engaging people in Bible study. Equipping people to make the most of the abundant life Jesus provides continues to be a priority as she serves on the Women’s Bible Study Team and teaches a Sunday School class for parents of school-aged children at her church in Georgetown, Texas.

Laura feels blessed beyond belief to be wife to Matt, her husband of 22 years, and mom to Austin (14) and Justin (10). As the only female in this high testosterone home, she has adapted to funky smells, plenty of dirt, and lots of talk of hunting, fishing, and sports. When it gets to be too much, she escapes to her scrapbook room where she loses track of time in the creative process of cataloging all the fun they have together.

What people are saying about Laura

“Laura was absolutely brilliant—taking Biblical concepts and applying them to modern times. She has a sincere, unpretentious way of presenting and truly cares about people and their journey of faith.”

— A. M., St. Richard's Episcopal Church, Round Rock, TX

“Laura's profound appreciation for grace drives her to take the Word of God seriously without taking herself too seriously. As a result, hearing Laura speak is more than a mere learning experience or a pleasure. It's an unveiling of God.”

— Ernest Jones, Senior Pastor of Main Street Baptist Church, Georgetown, TX

“Laura Naiser brings the Word to life better than anyone I know. She...makes the Bible more relatable and approachable.”

— Miranda Bradley, author of Blessed Are the Jesus Chicks: A Christian Mother's Guide to Life, Love, and Work

Get Real

Hollywood sets project the appearance of a grand reality while only being elaborate facades with nothing real behind them. It looks like you could live there but you really wouldn't want to. It is tempting for us to project a facade of having it all together (and in a perfectly clean house, too!) But it is impossible to live abundantly in a false reality. In this presentation, Laura shares her own struggle in this area and the amazing rewards that come from choosing to get real with God and others.

You'll walk away equipped to:

- Confidently bring your real self to God and receive the acceptance you long for.
- Discern how and when to share what with whom.
- Discover how the very things you wanted to hide can bless others in life-changing ways.

Replace Your Buttons with Boundaries

Do you ever feel like an elevator because you let people press your buttons all day and make you go where they want you to go? Laura invites you to trade your buttons for some healthy boundaries and discover the full extent of your freedom in Christ. Laura explores Biblical examples of boundary setting and provides practical instruction on setting healthy boundaries in our lives.

You'll walk away knowing how to:

- Develop stronger, healthier, more authentic relationships.
- Protect against manipulation and violation without resorting to unhealthy defenses.
- Exchange a desperate need to please people for a passionate desire to please God.
- Escape the “can't say no” syndrome so you can say yes to the things that matter.

What's Under Your Rug?

Life has a way of shaking us up and ripping the rug out from under us. When life pulls the rug out from under you, what will you land on? Having experienced some major rug-ripping in her own life, Laura has learned some important lessons that insure we land on solid ground when life shakes us up.

Laura will share with you how to:

- Recover your footing and move forward with hope, peace, and purpose.
- Weave a new rug with better slip-resistance and place it on the right foundation.
- Properly maintain your new rug so it won't become worn and frazzled.

A Life-Changing Love

“God is love.” In this interactive and fun presentation we unpack that little phrase. You might be surprised by how much life-changing truth and grace is packed into three little words!

By exploring who God is and how He loves, Laura will help you:

- Overcome the chaos of constant change by resting in the constancy of our unchanging God.
- Love like Jesus loves instead of struggling to just tolerate difficult people.
- Strengthen your relationship with Christ in ways that work with who you are and your season of life.
- Feel the love of Christ more intimately and the guidance of the Holy Spirit more clearly.
